

Seeing Through Our Lies

Joseph's brothers sold him as a slave, but they told their father (Jacob) that he died.

On a piece of white paper, write the words "We sold Joseph" with an orange crayon. This is the truth.

Now scribble over the whole message (We sold Joseph) with a blue crayon until you can no longer see the words. This is the lie that Joseph's brothers told.

Using a resealable plastic bag, pour one cup of water and one drop of blue food coloring into the bag. Seal the bag and mix it so the water turns blue.

Now lay the bag over the message and read the words!

Even when we tell a lie, God still sees the truth.

Then talk as a family about the power of words.
